

Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has proven to be very successful in our home. Before the law, we were receiving 10-12 calls per day. Now, we rarely get one per week.

It was such a hassle and a waste of time to stop what we were doing to answer the phone, only to find it was a telemarketer. I have never purchased anything, enrolled in any credit card company, or changed long distance carriers because of a telemarketer call. These companies are not missing out on any business from us by not being able to call us. We would NEVER utilize any of the services they were selling simply because they annoyed us to begin with!
